1 DAY INT/EXT

Inside a room with three contestant tables

*THREE CONTESTANTS BEHIND EACH TABLE
(CONTESTANTS REPRESENT THREE DIFFERENT CULTURES/RACES OR ETHNIC GROUPS IN SOCIETY)*

Presenter introduces the three different teams to the audience and explains the rules of the competition. One can see that there are two contestants that cannot stand each other, and the third contestant that tries to control everything and bring in peace between the other opposing contestants

Contestant 1: Chinese

Contestant 2 :Afrikaner

Contestant 3:Khoisan

Presenter: “Hi everyone, welcome to today’s episode of cooking up a storm! We are briefly going to introduce our contestants participating today.

(Camera goes to each contestant, and the contestants says who they are in their language)

Chinese: (Talks in their language, saying hello)

Afrikaner: “Goeie dag, almal”

Khoisan: (Talks in their language with the clicks”)

Presenter: Thank you very much. We are immediately going to get going.... Contestants.... are you ready.... 1.....2.....LET’S GET COOKING!!!!!!”

CONCLUSION: THE THREE CONTESTANTS ARE READY TO BATTLE WITH EACH OTHER. ONE CAN SEE THAT JUDGEMENT WENT ONLY ON HOW THE PEOPLE LOOK ON THE OUTSIDE AND NOT ON THE INSIDE. THE MIDDLE CONTESTANT IS CAUGHT UP BETWEEN THIS FIGHT.

2 DAY INT/EXT

Inside a room(studio) with three tables for the contestants

The contest begins with the three contestants working very hard to complete the task they were given. The Chinese is constantly watching the Khoisan. In the process of trying to sabotage the Khoisan's cake, she accidentally knocked over her own bowl of ingredients. With too much pride to ask, she continued without the essential ingredient of baking powder to bake the cake. The Khoisan laughs at the way, and continues with his cake.

Presenter: "I wish the tv audience can be here right now.....all I'll mention, is the overwhelming tension in this studio today!"

When the Chinese party accidentally caused her ingredients to fall on the ground, the Khoisan party laughs.

Afrikaner: "Hoekom kan almal nie net in vrede lewe nie??"

Presenter: "What are the Chinese party going to do about their problem?/?/Well, folks, we'll find out right after the commercial break.

(Commercial break is a ad about nappies for babies. Someone is going to keep the poster in front of the camera, so that it seems like a ad. It's added in for comical purposes.)

3 DAY INT/EXT

Inside a room(studio) with three tables for the contestants

Still struggling along, the Chinese noticed that something must be wrong with her cake, but she is still going on. The Khoisan tried to be mean to the Chinese. She took all her cake flour and threw the Chinese with it. A whole food fight starts (which can be plenty of fun) and causes havoc between the the contestants. After the fight, the Khoisan discovers that she now has wasted all her cake flour, and that she does not have anymore to proceed the baking process. With too much pride, she continues, without asking for help.

Presenter: "Welcome back folks. Everything is finally coming to an.....OH NO!!!!

(While the presenter is still speaking, he suddenly sees the Chinese and Khoisan parties are having a food fight. All the people can see is the flour that gets thrown to each other. The whole place is covered with flour.)

Presenter: (With the fight still in the background) Sorry for that folks. We'll have a short commercial break.aaaaaaaaaaaaah

(while he is talking,a spoon hit his head)

(The following ad break is kind of a mess. You can clearly hear the sound of the people fighting in the back. The person controlling the board for the advert of washing powder, accidentally dropped it on the ground, which causes the whole scene to be on television and the actors to be caught off guard.)

4 DAY INT/EXT

Inside a room(studio) with three tables for the contestants

The “paw-paw” has finally struck the fan. The Afrikaner saw that both contestants have too much pride to ask. She has everything what they need. She offers to them. At first they wouldn't except the offer, but they both did later on.

Presenter: “Shoe.....it's really been cooking up a storm here folks. Due to all the arguments and differences today, we as a team decided that there will be no winner..... (someone from behind the camera says he needs to look to the back. There he sees the three teams uniting, starting to make a cake.)

5 DAY INT/EXT

Inside a room(studio) with three tables for the contestant

Presenter: “Wow folks, it's amazing! Look at this cake. (they show the rainbow coloured cake to the television.)

We'll, I think that's the end of today. Next week we will be having some more interesting characters in studio, but until then!! CIAO!!

(The show ends with the opinions of the contestants. They will speak in their language, with subtitles showing in English)

Chinese: “I realized today that no matter what the person looks like or who the person is, you NEVER judge a book by its cover.

Khoisan: “What an amazing feeling you get when one works together. I never knew that it would be so great.

Afrikaner: “At first I was annoyed by the behaviour of the opponents, but when we started working together, I actually realized what awesome people they are.

The show ends, credits rolling in front, where the three parties give each other a huge hug and eating the cake they made.

The end

CLOSING CREDITS (Short!)

The story ends with the three contestants' master piece they created together, a cake with a rainbow on it. It represents how people with many differences set them all aside and stand together to work as one. It creates a symbol of peace, as well as unity to all take hands, and help those around you.
